Section II - Military Service Records in the States.

Most of the information in this section was obtained by direct correspondence. The survey technique used was a questionaire attachment to a letter of explanation addressed to the Adjutant General of each of the fifty states. The survey purpose defined was to compile accurate and current information on military service records in the states to be presented to those who attend the First Annual OKLAHOMA CONFERENCE ON GENEALOGY, October 12-13, 1962, sponsored by the College of Continuing Education, University of Oklahoma, Norman, Oklahoma, and the Oklahoma Genealogical Society.

To the Adjutant General of each State, credit is given for the information and guidance. Appreciation of the cooperative manner in which the information was furnished, is also expressed. To personnel of public service organizations in the states furnishing information as a supplement or as a referral from an Adjutant General's Office, credit and appreciation are acknowledged in like manner. Acknowledgment of personal assistance is indicated by names in parentheses.

The five items contained in the survey questionaire applicable to each state were these:

1. The date the militia was established in the state.
2. The wars and dates to which the records of the Office of the Adjutant General pertain in the respective states (The fact is recognized that military service does not begin and end simultaneously in each state in relation to specific wars and conflicts.)
3. The method of obtaining information from the records of participants in military operations detailed in Paragraph 2 above.
4. Other suggested depositories in the state or elsewhere for similar records.
5. Comments.

Summaries by State are appended. The numbers in these sumaries are correlated for brevity with the numbers 1-5, inclusive, above or are otherwise explained. States are arranged alphabetically, however, a supplement is provided to report information received after the first stencils were prepared for this paper.

Colonial* Wars 1743-1763; Revolutionary War 1775-1783; War of 1812, 1812-1815; Militia Records 1775-1815 (These just named are published in Delaware Archives, Vol. 1-5.); Civil War through WW I - the Adjutant General's office has microfilm of card excerpts from muster rolls, the originals of which are in the State Archives, Dover, Delaware.
3. Published archives (contain) all extant records through War of 1812 and may be consulted in most major libraries. The use of the Adjutant General's Office microfilm is primarily to assist veterans and dependents in processing claims. The originals are available in the State Archives for historical and genealogical research.
4. Very few early militia records have been discovered since publication of Archives, and almost none on early wars. They are widely scattered. The State Archives has originals or copies of some.
5. A definitive history of the Delaware National Guard is in preparation. From the pamphlet history, The Delaware National Guard in Its Fourth Century of Service to State and Country, 1957, State of Delaware The Adjutant General's Office, Wilmington, Delaware.
* The "Volunteer militia, or Volunteers. --- carried Delaware's colors in the five colonial wars against the French and Indians - King William's War, Queen Anne's War, King George's War, the War of Jenkin's Ear and the French and Indian War." P. 2.
6. D.D.W. There is much helpful, interesting history and there are many research clues in the pamphlet history of the Delaware National Guard which was "already a century old." --- when a 23 year old Lieutenant Colonel named George Washington received his baptism of fire in western Pennsylvania during the French and Indian War, ---. p. 1.
(Photocopies of records in custody of the Public Archives Commission, Dover, Delaware, are available for research purposes. Leon deValinger, Jr., State Archivist.)

FLORIDA. Office of the State Adjutant General, Army National Guard of Florida, State Arsenal, St. Augustine, Florida.
1. Records go back to 1830.
2. Seminole Indian War (Florida State Militia only) 1835-1843; Indian Wars (Fla. State Militia only) 1854-1856; War Between the States (Confederate and Federal Muster Rolls - Florida troops only) 1861-1865; Spanish American War (Florida troops only mobilized) 1898-1899; Mexican Border Incident (Florida troops only mobilized) 1916-1917; WW I (Individuals entering from State of Florida by enlistment, induction and entering from Florida National Guard) 1917-1919; WW II (only members of Florida National Guard entering active military service by induction of units).
3. Address request to: The Adjutant General, State of Florida, State Arsenal, St. Augustine, Florida, and supply: name of individual, dates (approximate) of service and designation of unit in which served with such additional data such as date of birth, city or county from which entered military service, etc. The volumes of requests received by this headquarters necessitates priority for requests involving claims for retirement, pension, social security, etc. Requests to establish eligibility in social service organizations are second priority and requests for purely genealogical information are processed as work load will permit.
(The Florida State Library is at Tallahassee, Fla. Miss Dorothy Dodd, State Librarian. It is possible that there may be records of archival nature in the Florida State University Library, Tallahassee, Fla.D.D.W.)

GEORGIA. Department of Defense, Military Division, State of Georgia (Paul E. Castleberry, Lt. Col., CE, GaARNG, Personnel Officer).
1. First Constitution of 1777.
2. (The dates are approximate). Spanish American War 20 April 1898 - 11 April 1899; Mexican 9 May 1916, no record of Muster-out of Personnel; WW I 6 April 1917 - 11 Nov. 1918; WW II (War Department Booklet "Honor List of Dead and Missing").
3. Correspondence about the above: Department of Defense, P. O. Box 4839, Atlanta 2, Ga. For WW II and Korean service write: Military Personnel Records Center, GSA, St. Louis 32, Mo. There is no special form for use when requesting information from the Department of Defense of Georgia (address above). Information which should be given in the letter request is full name used in service, date and place of birth, home address at time of entry, date and place of discharge, and race. There is no charge for a record of service prepared by the Georgia Department of Defense.

Records prior to the Spanish American War of historical nature were transferred from State Agencies to the Archives and History Division.

From Genealogical and Historical Research in Georgia, by Mary Givens Bryan; Revised November, 1961:

"Military Records, Colonial, Revolutionary, 1812, and Indian Wars. --- the armed services during early days maintained no individual service record to reflect the whole military career --. Neither was it usual to record place of birth, residence, or information as to marriage or kinship. The --- records which survive --- consist almost exclusively of rosters, financial accounts and vouchers; --- few--- are covered by indexes. p.2.

"When searching for the military records of any soldier, it is desirable that the township and county of residence be established as early and as positively as possible. p.2.

"Georgia Confederate Records on Microfilm. The Archives Department has purchased from the National Archives, GSA, Washington 25, D.C., microfilm copies of the COMPILED SERVICE RECORDS OF CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS WHO SERVED IN ORGANIZATIONS FROM THE STATE OF GEORGIA. --- A photocopy of the record of any soldier (from Georgia) will be supplied on request for $1.00. These records consist of all available information taken from muster rolls, roster, hospital registers, Union prison registers and rolls, parole rolls, etc. In order to find the records of any particular soldier, it is NECESSARY TO KNOW THE MILITARY UNIT IN WHICH HE SERVED or the COUNTY FROM WHICH THE SOLDIER ENLISTED. p.5.

"---Military records of the Civil War era do not give age and names of parents, wives, etc. --- p.5.

Many men, particularly older ones, "served in the Home Guards, and were known as "State Militia" men. State Records of 1857-1865 of the State Militia consist of military commissions, orders, letters to and from Governor Joseph E. Brown and his Adjutant General Henry C. Wayne." These men were not a part of the Confederate Army---". p.5.

Confederate Pension and historical military records are in the Department of Archives and History. Requests for Confederate Military Records should include full name, company, regiment and branch of service (infantry, cavalry, artillery, state militia, reserves, etc.), The County of residence when the soldier enlisted rather than the place where he enlisted is helpful. Confederate pension records begin in 1879 and are filed alphabetically by county; therefore, it is almost imperative to know the county from which application was made. p.6.

Copies of the Roster of Confederate Soldiers of Georgia, compiled by Lillian Henderson, may be purchased from the printers, Longino and Porter, Hapeville, Georgia. p.6.

To obtain Pension records for soldiers of the Revolution, War of 1812, Indian Wars, Mexican War, Spanish American War, write the National Archives and Records Service, GSA, Washington 25, D.C. p.7.

The Department of Archives and History has a list of useful genealogical guides which may be purchased. This list is included in the cited Mary Givens Bryan's publication.

Other pamphlets, etc. of the Department of Archives and History include: (1) Head-Right Grants and Bounty Grants (see notes).(2)Georgia's Colonial Parishes, Districts and Towns, Supplement to Yenawine's Check List of Source Materials for the Counties of Georgia (see notes) (Georgia Historical Quarterly Vol. 32, 1948; list of counties where records are very incomplete due to one cause or another; Print of Hall's Original County Map of Georgia; Official and statistical register, 1959-1960, and order of creation of Georgia's Counties; and list of professional genealogists.

Photocopy service is available provided the exact reference to volume and page is quoted, also photocopies from microfilm, original documents or printed material not on microfilm. There is a Photocopy Order Blank.

Note: 1. Georgia had 6 Lotteries, i.e. 1805, 1807, 1820, 1821, 1827 and 1832. Qualified residents of the State were entitled to draw and no special dispensation was given to Revolutionary veterans, except in the 1820, 1827 and 1832 Lotteries. In these Lotteries, the veterans were given an extra draw and were designated in the Lottery Lists and in the grant by the letters "R.S." or "Rev. Sol." only. No military record is given. Further questions may be addressed to: Mrs. Phillip W. Bryant, Surveyor General Office, Georgia Department of Archives and History" - from leaflet.

Note: 2. Georgia's County Records on Film. "In 1951 the Archives Department and the Genealogical Society of Salt Lake City, Utah, launched a joint program of microfilming the permanent county records. The program is being supervised by the Georgia Dept. of Archives and History. Fifteen years, with only two field photographers is estimated for completion of the 159 counties. The cited publication of Mary Givens Bryan lists the 45 counties completed.

"The Department of Archives and History and the Genealogical Society have entered into an agreement with the county officials that no copies of film can be reproduced to sell to individuals or libraries, within or outside the State. --- provided the volume and page can be cited, a photocopy can be furnished --- for a fee. If certification is required, the county officials who have charge of the original records must certify to records in their custody." p.4.

HAWAII. Army National Guard of Hawaii, Adjutant General's Office, Fort Ruger, Honolulu 16, Hawaii (David P. Silva, Brig. Gen. HARNG, Deputy Adjutant General).
1. November 1852.
2. WW I 1918-1919 (Over 9,000 records of men and women from Hawaii who served. Records furnished by the then War and Navy Departments.
3. Correspondence: WW I Records, Attn: Records Center; Militia (Hawaii National Guard), Attn: Records Center, Adjutant General of Hawaii, Fort Ruger, Honolulu 16, Hawaii.

The Hawaii Guardsmen pages 20-23, incl., 82nd General Conference Issue, National Guard Assoc. of the U.S., Vol. XII, No. 33, Third Quarter October 1960, article, The Hawaii National Guard, Past and Present, by Eddie Anderson: "The Hawaii National Guard has the distinction of being an organization whose origin can be traced back to the days of the Hawaiian Monarchy", The 1st Hawaiian Guard formed in Nov. 1852 "is a direct ancestor" of the present Hawaii National Guard. A few months later, permission was obtained from King Kamehameha III to organize the 1st Hawaiian Cavalry. "Upon annexation of Hawaii to the United States in 1898, the local militia attained regimental status and was officially designated the National Guard of Hawaii." (When issued, single copies of this publication were available from Editorial Office, Hawaii Guardsman, Ft. Ruger, Honolulu 16 at 25 cents). Of further historical interest, King Kamehameha I "in 1816 had a fort constructed at the entrance to Honolulu Harbor out of mud and coral rock picked up at low tide", armed with 50 cannons, many of them 18 pounders. A few years later King Kamehameha I had a second fort constructed, this one at the top of Punchbowl Hill, now known as the NATIONAL MEMORIAL CEMETERY OF THE PACIFIC. The Anderson article illustrations include Typical Dress of Ancient Hawaiian Warrior, National Guard of Hawaii Officers, taken in 1900, HNG men, Honolulu, following 1940 activation, and others.

From The Army in Hawaii, U. S. Army, Hawaii, developed by the Progress and Statistical Analysis Div., Office of the Comptoller, 1 April 1961, p. 13, "The forbears of the current Hawaii National Guard were known as the King's Guards and were initially organized in 1852 during the reign of King Kamehameha III." This book, well illustrated, also contains the names of the current membership of the Army Advisory Committee of Hawaii on matters affecting civilian-military community relations.

ILLINOIS. The Adjutant General State of Illinois, Room 200, Armory Building, Springfield, Ill.
1. 1812.
2. All Wars.
3. Correspondence to the above address. There is no charge.
4. Illinois State Archives, Archives Bldg., Springfield, Ill. (Mr. Theodore J. Cassady, Assistant State Archivist).

Photoduplication service is available at cost and certification for a small statutory fee.

There is a consolidated name index, covering more than one million citations appearing in Illinois State records prior to 1850, available in the Archives catalog. The General Assembly (Legislature) Records 1809-1957. They include Abraham Lincoln's service as member of the House of Representatives from 1834 to 1841. Correspondence (Dept. of Aeronautics) (Abandoned Flight Schools, Airports, Restricted Landing Areas) 1941-1955 is in the Archives.

In the Military and Naval Department are the Adjutant General's Archival Records excepting the Militia and most of the National Guard; transcripts from the U.S. War Dept. of muster rolls covering service of Illinois Soldiers in the Black Hawk and Mexican Wars; muster-in and muster-out rolls from the Civil and Spanish American Wars, miscellaneous administration records 1861-1862; original Commission registers 1809-1930; Special Order Books 1862-1907; and miscellaneous records of National Guard Regiments 1877-1880, 1903-1910.

Civil War service certifications are made from data tabulated in 89 ledger volumes which include physical descriptions, age, birthplace, occupation, marital status, residence, rank, enrollment, period and pay. Records of the Service Recognition Board for WW I and WW II bonuses are by law restricted as confidential, also those of the State Council of Defense (later, War Council). There is frequent reference service on these records.

Land Records (Auditor of Public Accounts). One of the two main categories is the official survey field notes (492 bound volumes) and township plats (52 bound volumes), and records of land sales made through the district land offices ---. U. S. land offices were established at Kaskaskia (1804), Shawneetown (1812), Edwardsville (1816), Vandalia and Palestine (1820), Danville and Quincy (1831), Chicago (1834) and Galena (1834; moved to Dixon, 1840). The records of these offices are more numerous for the pre-Civil War period. The land collection also includes statement of the 18th century grants, 56 vols. of tract books, and correspondence of the Register, Receiver, Surveyor General, and Commissioners of the General Land Office ---. Other Auditor's records include --- Tax Sales, Cancelled Warrants 1845-1916, Warrant Registers and Journals 1813-1934, Receipt Books 1829-1913 ---.

INDIANA. The Adjutant General, State of Indiana, Room 807, Indiana State Office Bldg., 100 North Senate Ave., Indianapolis 4, Ind. (Carl B. Helphinstine, Colonel, Ind. ARNG (Ret.), Director of Personnel, from records maintained by the Archives Division, Indiana State Library).

1. 1816 or very soon after.

2. Territorial and State Militia 1810 (?); Mexican War 1846-1848; Civil War 1861-1865; Spanish American War 1898; WW I 1917-1918; National Guard up to 1940 or 1941. (Certified copies of service records are made at no cost.)

3. Service records through the Civil War may be had at written request.

a. Spanish-American and WW I requests should be addressed to the Adjutant General's Office at the above address, or to the Veterans Administration.

b. If the information requested is in the nature of a claim for compensation, pension, etc., the request should be processed through the local State Service Officer, of the Veterans Administration.

c. In the early days of the militia, records were incomplete and limited, and are not organized. They suffered much destruction. Consequently little can be reported except a name if it appears on a list of commissioned officers.

d. The confidential nature of more recent military records is stressed. People may be disappointed when they are not made available. Requests should go through the Adjutant General's Office, and should identify the individual and state the relationship with the soldier whose record is requested.

4. The Genealogy Division, Indiana State Library, Indianapolis, Ind., has data on the Revolution, the War of 1812, and the Black Hawk War (1831-1832).

Supplement (D.D.W.) From the booklet, Aids to Genealogical Research, compiled by Margarete Ness Butz, Former Head of the Genealogy Division, Indiana State Library. (The present Genealogy Division is the combined Genealogy Division of the Indiana State Library and the Eugene Haslet Darroch Memorial Library which is The Genealogy Department of the Indianapolis Public Library):

a. Correspondence is limited largely to requests for definite information not requiring too detailed research. Special attention is given to those interested in Indiana connections.

b. Much work has been done on military and pension records as a public service. Some references are:

(1) Index to Rev. War and War of 1812 Pension Records as found in the Senate Documents Pension Roll (Index made for the Dept.)

(2) Rev. War U. S. Pension Records, published in 1835 have been indexed by name and county for all states.

(3) The Division has a name index to the 1818 Pension list.

(4) The Roster of Soldiers and Patriots of the American Revolution buried in Indiana, comp. by Mrs. Roscoe C. O'Byrne, and suppl. vols. comp. by Margaret Waters for DAR.

(5) Index of the photostat roster of the men of Indiana in the Militia, War of 1812.

(6) Service records of Indiana men in the Civil War and later wars are kept in the Archives Division, Indiana State Library.

(7) The Indiana Historical Society is housed with the Indiana State Library and the Genealogical program and collection are cooperative endeavors.

(The new publication, Aids for Genealogical Searching in Indiana, by Carolynne L. Wendel, Head, Genealogy Division, Indiana State Library, published by The Detroit Society for Genealogical Research, 1962, Copyright, is now available. 154 pages, price $3.00 (?). See Ohio summary for address. This publication is very inclusive, essential to Indiana research and is one of several published by the Detroit Society. See Michigan, New York and Ohio summaries for other Detroit Society publications.

IOWA. Iowa State Department of History and Archives, Historical Bldg., Des Moines 19, Iowa. (Mrs. Patricia McCauley, Librarian, Iowa History and Genealogical Library). The Department's publication is Annals of Iowa. Reproduction service is available for small fee.

Military records include Roster for Iowa Soldiers in Civil War; GAR (Grand Army of the Republic) material and records; Records of WWI; WW II; and Korean War. (Census Records of Original Counties of Dubuque and Demoine of July 1836, and 1840 Census of S.E. Iowa are allied to participants in the Black Hawk War.

Some of the Iowa County Histories have complete Civil War Rosters. The History of Wapello County, Iowa, 1878, Western Historical Company, Chicago, contains 15 pages of very fine war records taken principally from Adjutant General's reports.

(The State Historical Society of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa, publishes a quarterly and the monthly Palimpsest. Mentioned of the latter: Old Fort Crawford, Oct. 1961; and the Black Hawk War, Feb. 1962.)#See note

(An addition to the Finding Aids, Local Sources for Published War Records, compiled Sept. 25, 1960, and available at the Oklahoma Genealogical Society Work Shop is a pamphlet of a few pages, Iowa "Honor Roll" of men 90 years and above in 1885. This pamphlet is in the Oklahoma Historical Society Library, Historical Building, Okla. City. Mrs. Dorothy Williams, Librarian. D.D.W.)

3. Correspondence with the Adjutant General, Commonwealth of Ky., State Capitol, Frankfort, Ky., Attn: War Records Section. (No fee-see notes).
4. Kentucky Historical Society, Old Capitol, Frankfort, Ky., and County Clerk's Office of the respective counties.

Notes: (1) When the records are not available in the National Archives and the subject was in the Revolutionary War, those records of Kentuckians are maintained at the Virginia Hostorical Society, Richmond, Va. Records of men who were in the State Militia or National Guard are maintained in the Office of the Adjutant General, address as in Item 3. Few records are available prior to 1865; No records in this office of those who participated in Wars before the Revolution or in the Indian Wars.
(2) Correspondence in Item 3 should include the full name of the subject and the regiment if known. The records do not disclose any personal data; therefore date and place of birth and parents and children's names are of no value.
(3) Reference: The Military History of Kentucky, 1939, by the Adjutant General of Ky., written and arranged by Frederick L.A.Eichelberger, Federal Writers Project, WPA, printed by the State Journal Co.,Frankfort, Ky. This book is not available for purchase at the Office of the Adjutant General.

Kentucky Historical Society, Old Capitol, P.O.Box 104, Frankfort,Ky., (Miss Frances Coleman, Librarian). There is a charge for answering genealogical inquiries and a list of professional genealogists available. Aside from materials filed under family names, it is necessary to know the county when searching these Kentucky records.

(Holdings include pension record by county (typescripts); indexed Rosters of Kentucky Soldiers in War of 1812, Mexican War, and Spanish-American War, but no general index of Civil War Rosters; and indexed Kentucky Confederate Pensions (on microfilm).

MONTANA. Office of the Adjutant General, Department of the Army, Army National Guard of Montana, Helena, Montana (Richard E. Williams, CWO W2, Mont. ARNG, Personnel Officer).
1. The first unit of the Montana National Guard was formed in Virginia City, Montana in 1885, exact date not available.
2. Records of this office contain some information dating back to the Spanish-American War, and include WW I and WW II with varying amounts of information. "The first account of a civilian or militia organization in Montana was --- the Battle of the Big Hole between units of the U.S. Army and Chief Joseph and the Nez Pierce Indians. A group of volunteers or militia from Butte, Anaconda and surrounding areas participated in the battle. The date of the main battle has been established as August 9, 1877. Other small skirmishes occured as Chief Joseph fled across Montana on his way to Canada. Other cases where volunteers aided in Indian fighting are reported but very little is known about them."

NORTH CAROLINA. State Department of Archives and History, Box 1881, Raleigh, North Carolina (H.G. Jones, State Archivist).

The Adjutant General maintains current military records; all others are in this Department and are available to researchers.

The pamphlet, Genealogical Research in the North Carolina Department of Archives and History, Revised edition 1962, available from the Department, details military records available, lists publications for sale, and outlines services. Military Records (pp.4-6) include: (1)Revolutionary Army Accounts indexed alphabetically by name, usually showing name, amount paid, and by whom, but no personal information. (not complete). (2) Revolutionary Vouchers arranged alphabetically, usually showing name, amount paid, and district in which paid, sometimes the reason, but no personal information (not complete). (3) War of 1812 vouchers arranged alphabetically, usually showing name, rank, county and commanding officer (not complete). There is also the printed copy of Muster Roll of the Soldiers of the War of 1812 in which troops are listed by military unit and not alphabetized. (5) Mexican War, printed copy of Roster of North Carolina Troops in War with Mexico with Index. (6) Civil War, card index to Moore's Roster* of N.C. troops in the War Between the States, an alphabetical listing usually showing name, rank, unit, county in which enlisted, sometimes promotions, whether wounded, etc. (not complete and contains errors). The Adjutant General's "Rolls of Honor" of N.C. Confederate soldiers arranged by regiments and companies with enlisted men alphabetized under each company, and giving age, date enlisted are available only to the 61st Regiment. Regiment and Company must be furnished for an inquiry to be serviced. (7) Spanish-American War: Printed Roster of N.C. volunteers listed by regimental staffs and companies. No index. (8) WW I card index arranged alphabetically showing name, place of induction, birthplace, age, service and reason for discharge. (9) WW II Selective Service 16 mm. microfilm. Also available are dim carbons of separation papers filed alphabetically by name of county, some by registration number - this number appears on the microfilm and is necessary for search of numerical files. (10) Pension Records: (a) A few applications for State pensions for Revolutionary service; however, most of the Revolutionary War Pension applications are in the National Archives. (b) North Carolina provided pensions for many of her Confederate veterans and their widows. These applications are in the State of N.C. Department of Archives and History. The full name of soldier and county of residence must be given when inquiring about these records. North Carolina did not give pensions to Union Veterans or veterans of other wars. (11) Militia of N.C.: very few records, not indexed.
(* The N.C. Confederate Centennial Commission, in co-operation with the N.C. Department of Archives and History, N.C., is compiling a new roster of N.C. troops in the Civil War. Tentative publication date is April, 1965. No inquiries should be made until the release is announced.)

Mail inquiries concerning military records must given the following information before a search can be made: (1) War; (2) Full name of individual; and (3) County of residence. When these items are furnished, indexed records will be checked; for those not indexed, a professional genealogist is needed for the search.

Copy service is available. Forms used for reply by the Department detype of findings, copy service which can be furnished and fees.

OKLAHOMA. Office of the Adjutant General, Oklahoma Military Dept., 2205 N. Central, Okla. City 5 (Roy W. Kenny, Major General, AUS Ret., The Adjutant General).
2. Records of personnel who served in the National Guard or Militia of the State of Oklahoma, Office of the Adjutant General.
3. The General Services Administration recently assumed custody of certain military records of discharged personnel of the Army, Navy and

Air Force. Address inquiries as follows:
a. Former Army personnel who enlisted before 5 Oct. 1945 - Chief, Army Branch, Military Personnel Records Center, GSA, St. Louis 32, Missouri.
b. Former Army personnel who enlisted after 5 Oct. 1945 - Commanding Officer, Army Records Center, St. Louis 32, Missouri.
c. Former Navy personnel (these records were previously held by the Naval Records Management Center) - Chief, Navy Branch, Military Personnel Records Center, GSA, St. Louis 32, Missouri.

e. Air Force Reserve personnel - Commander, Air Reserve Records Center, 3800 York Street, Denver 5, Colorado.

No information has been received about the use of a special form to obtain information from these GSA Records Centers. A letter giving name, grade, service number, name of unit to which assigned, and the dates of service should suffice (to the extent known as in the use of Form NAR 288 to the GSA when ordering photocopies concerning vets.DDW).

(Confederate Pension Records. There are a few thousand of actual records in the Oklahoma State Library, Archives Division, 109 State Capitol, Okla. City 5, Okla. These records have also been microfilmed and positive prints can be made available. Photocopies of the records can be obtained or information abstracted. The records are indexed. Charge for reproduction is nominal. Ralph Hudson, State Librarian).

OREGON. Office of the Adjutant General, Military Department, State of Oregon, Salem 10, Oregon.
1. 1846.
2. All personnel who were active in the Oregon National Guard from 1920 to present. All records prior to 1920 and all WW II selective service records are in the Oregon State Archives.
3. Address inquiry for:
a. Records since 1920 to: Military Department, State of Oregon, Salem 10, Oregon.
b. Records prior to 1920 and WW II Selective Service to: Oregon State Archives, Oregon State Library, Salem 10, Oregon (David C. Duniway, State Archivist).
From: Have you an Oregon Ancestor (out of print). Military records are often helpful in tracing migrations. Oregon veterans of WW I received a State bonus and could apply for loans. These and paid loan files are in the State Archives.

The Wasco County Microfilm includes Muster Roll 1856, Military list 1872. The Washington County Microfilm includes Military lists 1864, 1867, 1873. These films are for sale. Photocopy service is available.

New York State has a system of local historians who are public officials with appointments provided by law. Some are paid small salaries from public funds. Each county may have a county historian and each city, town, and village is required to have one. The public service they are required to give is defined by law. A New York State Association of local historians was organized in 1944 (Know Your Ancestors, A Guide to Genealogical Research, Dr. Ethel W. Williams, Charles E. Tuttle Co., pp. 189-190).

These leaflets are very detailed and the contents so extensive references will not be abstracted. Research service is also outlined.

The Published Archives of Pennsylvania. There are 138 volumes of Penn. Archives and Colonial Records (ten distinct series in all). For the genealogist, the Third, Fifth and Sixth Series are the most useful. Over one million names of early Pennsylvanians will be found in the indexes. Many of the Published source materials have been lost. The great bulk of the Pennsylvania Archives appeared before the State Archives was established as a governmental unit. Those series published toward the end of the 19th century were done hastily and contain numerous errors. The printed records unsupported by original documents presently in custody of the Division of Public Records cannot be certified. (From Information Leaflet #1.)

There is a list of Documentary Books for sale. Listed is Accounts Audited of Revolutionary Claims, 3 vols., with names Abbott through Allen; Allison - Arnet; Austin - Barnet, $5.00 per vol. When Charleston was surrendered to the British on May 12, 1780, currency was replaced with a credit operation. Funding the resulting debt began in 1783. Also published are the Stub Entries to Indents (Indentures - interest bearing certificates) Issued in Payment of Revolutionary Claims. If the claims were approved, they were paid in indents (certificates). On the stubs detached from these certificates the names of the recipients and descriptions of the services performed were entered. "These brief entries are often the only surviving evidence of support given to the cause of American Independence." The published stub books are separated into alphabetical divisions and are priced $2.50 to $6.00.

The 1957 List of Publications of the S.C. Archives Dept., contains several military publications, among them: St. Augustine Expedition of 1740, Navy, Indian, Revolution and Confederate service.

3. Correspondence: Adjutant General's Department, Office of War Records, 331 Cordell Hull Building, Nashville 3, Tenn. No special form is necessary; however, as much information as possible from the enquirer aids the search: the military organization, station of organization, age, full name of veteran, home address and service number. "If the veteran is living, it is necessary that he make the request concerning his personal record. If the veteran is deceased, the request to be honored must originate with his family or with a Veterans Organization or Civil Organization interested in the veteran and/or the welfare of the veteran or his family."
4. The Archives Division, Tennessee State Library and Archives, 403 7th Avenue North, Nashville 3, Tenn.

The Confederate State Army Records are on file in the above Archives Division. Also in the Archives Division is an alphabetical list of participants in the Indian Wars after the Revolution, Pensionable Wars, and conflicts involving small geographical areas.

The Index to Questionnaires of Civil War Veterans, Manuscript Section, Archives Division, Tennessee State Library, 1962, a publication of the Manuscript Section, alerts the public to the awareness of these records and the information they contain. There were 1466 Confederates and 115 Federals who returned the completed questionnaires sent to all known living Tennessee Civil War Soldiers by Dr. Gus Dyer, Archivist at that time. A revised questionnaire was sent out in 1920 by Mr. John Trotwood Moore, Director of the Tennessee Historical Committee. The completed forms that were returned were received by 1922. Requested information was date and place of birth; date and place of enlistment; war service, including descriptions of battles, prison life, and other war experiences; economic and social status of the soldier and his family; genealogical data; educational and religious data; occupation before and after the war; and some other facts. Some sent additional pages, sketches, maps, rosters, and other material.

[illegible] names of those having an asterisk sent more than the questionnaire information. Many of the Regiments are other than Tennessee: Kentucky, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, Alabama, Virginia, North Carolina, Mississippi, Georgia, South Carolina, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas (perhaps others were overlooked by this compkler - DDW). The Archives Division has other publications, also.

(The East Tennessee Historical Society Publications, and "Ansearchin" News, Memphis Genealogical Society, are also mentioned. E.T.H.S. in the Oklahoma Historical Society Library and Oklahoma City Library and the latter in the Oklahoma City Library, Third at Robinson. D.D.W.)

OFFICIAL HISTORY OF THE WASHINGTON NATIONAL GUARD (1 June 1961), Author Virgil F. Field, Colonel, U.S. Army, Retired, Historian.

Special mention is made of the [illegible]
National Guard; six volumes(pamphlets) of the seven have been completed. Pages end with 41 - 170 - 248- 419 - 554 and 741, respectively.

Volume I is the Heritage of the Washington Territorial Militia. It traces the Militia through Ancient Times, the Medieval Period, early periods of the United States, "Oregon Country", Cayuse and Rogue River Wars, and organization in Washington Territory. In each volume is a Bibliography Applicable to Military Records - Research Aids. From Volume I: "The realm (in the time of Alfred the Great) was divided into the township, the borough, the hundred, the shire. --- The military force of the shire was represented by the fyrd (militia), a mobilization of all freemen of the shire between the ages of 16 and 60, each family marching together in the township fighting unit which was led by the town reeve, or tungerefa (town sheriff)." Later, the royal bodyguard of select forces called "huscarls" was introduced, a standing army. The Assize (Assembly) of Arms of King Henry II, 1181, is quoted. The oldest such volunteer group dates from 1537. Their heritage descended to The Honorable Artillery Company of London which served in WW I (pp. 7-9).

During the Colonial Period, the 13 American Colonies had compulsory military training and service laws whose origin traced back to the English militia system. Men from 16 to 60 were organized into "trained bands". These "bands" became the Colonial Militia. Virginia seems to have had the first militia laws, March 1623. Act VIII was enacted at James City in February, 1645, and is reproduced on p. 10, Vol. I. In Chapter V is an account of the settlers around the Methodist Mission in Willamette Valley and the meeting at which Civil and Militia laws were adopted (p.19). Officers elected are named; those who attended the first drill March 11, 1844 are listed on p. 23.

Volume 2, Washington Territorial Militia in the Indian Wars of 1855-56 contains much official correspondence that is descriptive and identifies personnel. The Diary of the Yakima Indian War kept by Capt. W. W. DeLacy and the General Orders are good reading. There are 19 pages of personnel listed by company.

The Civil War is treated in Volume 3 in the same manner. Recorded sources were fewer. The majority of the men of the First Washington Territory Infantry were enlisted in California.

Volume 4, entitled "Washington National Guard in the Philippine Insurrection" continues the post Civil War period; includes the Nez Perce War of 1877, Bannock Indian War of 1878, Chinese Incident in Seattle and roster, the Philippine Insurrection, encampments, and Rosters of the First Washington Regiment of U.S. Volunteers and others with casualty lists.

WW I is predominant in Volume 5; however, it begins with the post Philippine Insurrection period. Many rosters are included beginning with one in 1908.

Volume 6 contains addendum to Volume 5 (the same system is used in the other volumes) which is the Naval Militia of Washington as shown by the Navy Register of 1917. This volume is an account of WW I and WW II, many rosters, General Orders, and includes the Journal and Diary of the WNG Commander June 23, 1935 to August 10, 1935.

These six volumes of the proposed seven are mimeographed because of the limitation of funds, illustrated with maps; are written from a collection of thousands of documents and letters dealing with the Territorial Militia as far back as 1854, and other records transcribed from official documents unavailable to the Military Department, State of Washington. (George M. Haskett, Major General, Wash. ARNG, The Adjutant General)

Work began on this definitive history in 1956. The author is Virgil F. Field, Colonel, U.S. Army, Retired, Historian. Of special significance is this statement from the Army Inspector General's report, appended to a report of the Secretary of War to President Ulysses S. Grant for the years 1876-76:

"It is a singular fact that, aside from the few official items contained in the Archives of the War Department, the only information we have of the early history of our military posts is derived from personal reminiscences or vague tradition ---.

---"Thus, instead of going to one place where it was believed such information should exist, it has been necessary to screen vast amounts of early day newspapers, scan city and county records and read volume after volume of other material and books which might shed a light on what transpired in the Militia during the Territorial Period." (Introductory by the author, Colonel Field.)
